Central and Southern Regions Shine at NZI National Sustainable Business Network Awards

SBN's Central and Southern Regions shone at the NZI National Sustainable Business Network Awards, held in Auckland on 12 November 2009, with member organisations being recognised in five categories.

Kiwibank was named as the overall winner in the Emerging Large and Corporate Business category, as was the herb farm in the Trailblazer Small and Medium Business category. Wellington Zoo Trust was awarded a Judge's Commendation in the Trailblazer Not for Profit Category, and also took out the inaugural People's Choice Award. Landcare Research Manaaki Whenua was awarded a Judge's Commendation in the Trailblazer Large and Corporate Business category.

Brenda Harkin, National Communication Manager/Manager of the Central and Southern SBN Regions is thrilled with the achievements.

'Central and Southern regional members have once again done their regions proud. These triumphs recognise the deep commitment to sustainable business practices demonstrated by the organisations within our membership', says Harkin.

Auckland Central MP Nikki Kaye, National MP Nicky Wagner, Labour leader Phil Goff, Green party co-leaders Metiria Turei and Russel Norman, Green MP David Clendon and Waitakere City Council Mayor deputy Mayor Penny Hulse were present at St Matthew in the City to celebrate the achievements the winners and commendations:

The SBN represents more than 700 New Zealand organisations that recognise the importance of using resources efficiently and reducing waste in their day-to-day operations.

NZI is one of the SBN's foundation partners and is the primary sponsor of the national awards for the third consecutive year.

Executive general manager Karl Armstrong says NZI places a lot of emphasis on sustainability and involvement in the awards is a way to recognise and support other companies that have ranked sustainability highly on their agenda.

Businesses can enter the awards in two ways:

1. By participation in the SBN's 'Get Sustainable Challenge', which helps businesses to identify, measure and improve their sustainable development;
2. Or they can enter the Sustainable Design and Innovation Award, which recognises businesses that create an exceptional sustainable product, service or building.

About the Sustainable Business Network

Nationally, the Sustainable Business Network represents more than 700 businesses from SMEs, consultants, research and academic staff through to large businesses and corporations. The Network has five regional offices and promotes sustainable business practice through networking, practical advice and support, research and policy. It focuses on leading, promoting and facilitating practices and procedures that enhance economic prosperity, environmental quality, social equity and business ethics.

- 'Trailblazers' are those organisations that have been implementing sustainability measures for two years or more
- 'Emerging' organisations have been on the journey for two years or less
- Trailblazers and emerging finalists participated in the Get Sustainable Challenge
- The Sustainable Design and Innovation Award category covers products, services and buildings
- All finalists were winners in their regional awards held in August and September of this year.
